

Any questions? Contact us at:
sop.reform@ucl.ac.uk

This study has been ethically
approved by the UCL LMS REC:
0276

SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCES OF BREAST CANCER

You can take part if you:

- Are a women living in the UK
- Have been diagnosed with ER+ breast cancer
- Have taken hormone therapy in the past 5 years or been offered in the last year

IN-DEPTH CONVERSATIONS

Speak to us about your experiences (in-person, via phone or online). This may last up to 60 minutes and you will receive a £20 voucher for your time.

We are working with South Asian women to explore their experiences of breast cancer and hormone therapy to understand how to improve support for South Asian women and reduce ethnic health inequalities.

So we'd like to hear from you.

We are looking for South Asian women in the UK who are willing to talk about their experiences of breast cancer and hormone therapy

By sharing your views, you can help to make a difference for South Asian women with breast cancer

Want to take part?
Scan the QR code
or use this link:

[https://tinyurl.com/
REFORM-SA-
research-study](https://tinyurl.com/REFORM-SA-research-study)

BREAST CANCER
NOW The research
& care charity

Chief Investigator: Prof. Rob Horne
Department of Practice and Policy
School of Pharmacy,
Faculty of Life Sciences